VOLUME L. NUMBER 15.

AGAIN I pause to inquire, "Where, O where is that empty dinner pail?"

THE skunky Kansas City Star doesn't like Wilson. Naturally, good Americans do.

THE stamp tax has been repealed. Good! Its enactment was the following of a bad Republican precedent.

YES, Maine went Republican last Monday, and it is on record that once upon a time the Dutch took Holland. History is ever repeating itself.

THE political pulpit is a misfit in an enlightened age. He had his place when the pillory and gyves and fagot and halter could be called in to supplement his dictation. Now he but brings contempt upon himself and discredit to his calling.

A CERTAIN St. Louis preacher, claiming relationship to President Wilson, last Sunday converted his pulpit into a political rostrum, and indulged in a screed of abuse of the administration. His text was the manner of settling the proposed big strike. It is fortunate for the President that no man can be held responsible for that which is said or done by a bigoted, smart-aleck relative.

HAVING hoped, down in their boots, that the big railroad strike would, by bringing disaster to the whole country, insure to their political benefit, the stand-pat g. o. p. are in no happy mood. With the strike a fact accomplished, how their spellbinders and organs would have inveighed against the imbecility and pusillanimity of Wilson and Congress! But the strike is happily averted and the aforesaid organs and spellbinders are expending their energies in denouncing the means which led to the adjustment of the trouble. Pity the sorrows of the disappointed and lay it not heavily against them that they thus seek to alleviate their distress. Where the feast is denied a bone must answer.

THE Republican candidate for President very wisely refrained from calling our prosperity a "Fool's Paradise" during his trip through the smiling plenty of the Golden West. A few years ago, when the walls of homes were papered with mortgages, when corn was burned for fuel, when interest rates were exorbitant and capital rarely left its vault, when the McKinley and Dingley and Payne tariffs were in effect, when the money of the country could be cornered at the will of a few buccaners, when railroad tracks were covered with rust, when school houses were few and so on and on, Republican orators had the people deceived as to the source and cause and whereabouts of prosperity. Not so today, when all such conditions have changed and the people have become wise to plunderers and shy of deceivers.

THE St. Louis Republic, in an editorial on the public schools of that city, says, in recounting Dr. Judd's "summary of conclusions": "That is to say, we make a commendable show with our buildings and we give the older pupils the best there is in education. But we give the little ones less than they are entitled to. There are too many of them in a building and the classes are very large."

Time was when the public schools were devoted to the teaching of the three R's—all that can be justly demanded from the purses of the taxpayers. Now we have, in addition to the fundamentals—which are slighted and skimmingly taught—the courses properly pertaining to the college and university, with constantly increasing expenditure. The little ones—properly subject to the educational care of the state—are set in the background to make room for the flounders and furbelows of the school faddists. These latter have a remedy, however: issue bonds and pile up the taxes!

My Prohibition friends have given roseate views of the "dry" conditions in Washington—in Seattle, in particular. But the lines of the pictures lack definiteness—something like Hughes' "Americanism." Knowing just a little of the ordinary conditions out there, I have taken in the asseverations of the Prohi advocates with several grains of salt, awaiting the voice from the other side. It comes to me from a lady resident of that city and bears the impress of truth plain and unvarnished. She writes to the Los Angeles Times as follows:

I was reading in the Seattle Times of August 4 about "Los Angeles Paper Shedding Tears Over Seattle" in regard to the dry law. Well, I have lived in Seattle over ten years, and prohibition has about finished the place. We have all the troubles that come with the dry law. Everywhere you go in the city of Seattle to-day you see the sign, "For Rent." Any person seeing so many signs can come to one conclusion—that something is wrong. Tourists are not very many this year and they make connection so closely that Seattle does not see them. Many go by way of Vancouver to Alaska and return home by way of Canada. It would pay you to visit Seattle and see the empty stores. On First Avenue I think everyone is selling out. Second Avenue has plenty, too; plenty of offices to rent, also, and houses. You get tired of counting them. Thousands of people have left Seattle; had to leave; could not get work, as the work was taken from them. Times are dull and taxes are awful. I know, as I own property. I have advised many of my friends in the East not to think of coming to Seattle at the present time. Seattle is a big blow town, and the drinking is going on just the same. Prohibition is a farce, and I hope the people of California will keep their minds and will not bring poverty on their heads and have to go to another State to make a living. I know as soon as I can sell what I have I will go back to Detroit. Ware the people! MRS. HANNAH WOOD.

Hogan Items.

Will write a few items as I haven't seen any items from Hogan in a long while.

There is quite a lot of sickness around here. Mrs. Steve Sutton has been very seriously ill with the fever. Miss Dollie Dunn is now on her recovery from malaria.

It seems that most of the people are suffering of chills.

Notice—There will be an Ice Cream Social given at the home of Miss Eva Savage on Friday, September 15th. There will be a cake for the most popular young lady receiving the most votes. Every body is cordially invited.

SNOWFLAKE

A Musical Recital.

The Recital given by the pupils of Mrs. J. E. Lucas at the home of Mrs. S. McSpaden, Caledonia, Mo., September 2, 1916, was a very interesting event.

The pupils performed well and showed they had been well instructed. The ladies of each family were present. The hostess surprised her friends with ice cream and cake. Every one enjoyed the program and refreshments and felt proud that their children have had the opportunity of being under an able instructor. Her pupils are very sorry that she will leave them in October for her home in Palatka, Florida.

Robbers Caught in St. Louis.

(From The Bismarck Gazette.)

The robbers that had burglarized the Steel Hardware & Lumber Co.'s store last Thursday night were captured in St. Louis Saturday evening while trying to dispose of some of the stolen goods. The burglars proved to be the two painters that had been in this city for several weeks prior to the robbery.

Mr. Steel gave a description of the two painters and a list of the articles taken to Deputy Sheriff Sam Doss. Mr. Doss had a bunch of circulars printed with these descriptions and sent them to the nearby towns and also to St. Louis. It may be added here that Mr. Doss has proven to be quite a terror to law violators. If Doss starts after any one, in nine cases out of ten he will show up with his man.

Messrs. Steel and Doss went to St. Louis Sunday afternoon and identified the two prisoners and also some of the articles taken. A good deal of the stolen merchandise was brought back Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Doss. Mr. Steel having returned Sunday evening.

The prisoners stated that after completing the job they hid behind the bill-board at the post office until a freight came along which they rode to De Soto, and from there went to St. Louis on No. 10.

The names of the two parties are Paul Pasco and Edward Dickson. They were also wanted in Arkansas, having escaped from the penitentiary. Dickson is a life-terminer, having killed his wife, while Pasco was in for seven years. The two prisoners were returned to the penitentiary in Arkansas.
